Welcome to UpperBid.com Online Auctions, the online auction site that focuses on auction buyer safety and auction product quality with sellers from the United States. Online auction bidders will notice that this online auction site has a much better quality of products than most other auction sites and it is free to join UpperBid.com Online Auctions. We aggressively restrict online auction sales of knockoff, counterfeit, or bootleg products, and quickly remove those types of auction sellers and their auctions if an auction seller tries to post them. Though auction buyers can join from almost anywhere in the world, all online auction sellers on this site must be based in the United States, all auction sellers must ship their auction products from the United States, and all auction sellers must submit to an online identity verification before they can post an online auction on UpperBid.com. There are no fees to post a basic online auction.

What is an online auction?

An online auction is a site on the web consisting of a large amount of online auctions. Each of these online auctions function like a live auction would in the sense that different buyers are allowed to bid on the online auction and that the winning bidder gets to purchase the item from that online auction at the price of the winning bid. The online auction format allows the bidder to find good deals by selecting which auctions online they want to bid on. The bidder
